Gravel Removal At Country Club Is A Concern

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Now that town meeting has approved a bylaw that will prohibit commercial gravel operations in residential areas, some townspeople are wondering how much gravel will be removed from the proposed Andover Country Club development, which will eventually include more than 200 houses.

Nearly 60 residents attended a public hearing of the planning board Tuesday night, when spokesmen for Dana F. Perkins and Associates of Lowell, representing owner and developer Andover-Cormier Inc., presented preliminary plans for the 160-acre development.

The parcel of land is located off Canterbury Street, Chandler Circle, Beacon Street, and Lowell Street.

Dividing the development into seven sections, the developer has begun work on the first two sections. The remaining sections, with construction to be undertaken in stages, could take 15 years to complete, said Dana Perkins spokesman Arthur Foss.

In response to a question from Selectman Norma Gammon, Director of Community Development and Planning Rhys Kear said the new gravel bylaw, once it is implemented, might not apply to the country club development.

Kear explained that the developer had submitted preliminary plans before the bylaw was approved by town meeting; if Andover-Cormier submits definitive plans within seven months of preliminary plans, the bylaw will not apply to the development, under a legal move called "grandfathering."

Andover-Cormier still has more than five months to submit its definitive plans, said Kear.

Foss said gravel would have to be removed from the development to create "useable" house lots, "not on the side of a hill," and to properly grade lots to the street.

David Brown of 57 Glenwood Road commented that the developer should "design houses to fit a sloping site, or else don't build there — don't put up so many

Bill 'Graduates'; Ev Honored

Bill Doherty will "graduate" and Ev Collins will be honored through the new school building program.

The new junior high school to be built through renovation and addition to the present Doherty school, will continue to bear the name of William A. Doherty, who was honored for his 39 years of service to the town as a school committee member several years ago.

The new high school auditorium, also a part of the recently-approved building program, will be named for J. Everett Collins long noted for his musical contributions to Andover and a veteran of public service to the town.

Both men will be officially notified of the honors by the school committee when it meets Tuesday night at 7:30 in the large group room at Andover High school.

The school committee informally decided on the naming of the buildings following approval by the voters at town meeting, April 16 of an $11.5 million school building program.

Collins was informed of the decision on Monday during a surprise birthday party in his honor given by the high school choral and band students.

Collins was emotionally touched by the honor, and noted that he feared that his 86 years may not permit him to see the completion of the auditorium.

But, Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert reminded him that Toscanini directed symphony at 91 and he fully anticipated "Uncle John," as the students have named Collins, to be on hand for the auditorium dedication.

Seifert said this week that the decision to "graduate Bill Doherty" was no problem to the school committee, which had viewed the matter as a continued

Signs Of Spring

While the weather this week has been less than spring-like, last weekend afforded a good opportunity to get in some kite-flying at the high school hill. The youngsters may have been getting in some practice for this Sunday's kite-flying contest scheduled for Sacred Heart Field beginning at 1:30 p.m., sponsored by the Department of Community Services.

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 1, 1980

The Department of Community Services will sponsor its third annual Kite Flying Contest, Sunday, May 4.

Intended for individuals of all ages, the contest will give kite flying fans the opportunity to showoff their flying and/or kit building skills. Any form of kit is welcome. The event will take place at the Shawsheen field (off Balmoral Street) and is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m.

While all participants will receive an award, competition will take place in the following categories: the largest kite; the kite with the longest tail; the funniest kite; the best home made kite; the smallest kite; the kite with the most original design; the highest flying kite; and the most attractive non-flying kite.

Ribbons will be presented to winners in each category. The four best flying kites will also win ribbons. All participants should arrive at least 15 minutes prior to the contest to assure entry and get their kit I.D. number.

There is no pre-registration for this event.

In case of inclement weather, the contest will be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 10.

Table Spaces Available

By Virginia Cole

Clean-up week in Andover will begin May 12. But you can get a jump on even that, by bringing your re-saleables to the Cardinal Cushing Gym on Haverhill Street, opposite Shetland Industries any Saturday morning in May from 10 to 12. The Recycling Auction will be held there on Saturday, May 31 and we are starting to collect goods now. Any household good that can still be used are acceptable. Garden tools, sports equipment and toys are also welcome. We do not take clothes or books. There are other ways they may be recycled.

We will be glad to be your garage sale or take what is left after you have yours. Or you can rent space from us on the day of the auction and set up your own table. Call 475-8792 for information. The charge for the space is $8. We have a guaranteed crowd. If you want to recycle on your own, that's fine with us. If you have crafts to offer, why not?

The auction is a community affair. We need goods and we welcome anyone who wants to join in the fun and experience the work part too. It's great for kids. We can use runners as well as buyers and sellers. Lunch will be available. Come early and stay late.

Three Flags Stolen From Town House

Vandals have stolen three American flags from the pole in front of the Town House during recent weeks.

The thefts are part of a recent wave of vandalism on flags in the community, some having been taken from private property in recent weeks.

John Lewis, veterans agent, reports that some of the flags stolen from the Town House were given to the town by families of deceased veterans. Lewis said that anyone caught stealing flags will be prosecuted.

In addition to the thefts at the town house, two flags have been stolen from the West Andover fire station in recent weeks.

Wang Bond Application Approved

Wang Laboratories $10 million bonding application for a 130-acre site in Andover Tech park has been approved by the Industrial Finance Authority and by the selectmen.

Today is the deadline for the Merrimack Valley-based computer company to exercise its option on the land, owned by Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co.

Wang withdrew its $10 million option on 106 acres of industrial land off River Road two weeks ago, and submitted a bonding application in the same amount for the Tech Park land.

Wang representatives explained that the company decided to withdraw its option on the 106 acres after difficulties with traffic and access, among other problems, began to develop.

"Once again, we are happy to have Wang in Andover," Selectmen Chairman James Abramson said Monday, "and we are looking forward to moving ahead with the project as speedily as possible."

Evening In Park Scheduled

East junior high school will hold its annual Evening in the Park at Central park and on Whittier street, 2 to 9 p.m. Saturday, May 14, with the selectmen's approval. Rain dates are scheduled for May 15, 21 and 22.

Selectmen granted approval provided that satisfactory arrangements are made with the police and department of community services. In addition, the school will be responsible for cleaning up after the event.

Utility Permits Granted

At their regular Monday night meeting, the selectmen granted New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. permission to excavate at two locations on Argilla Road; and to place buried cables on Comanche Place, Seminole Circle, Larchmont Circle, Bateson Drive, Cherokee Circle, and at three locations on Iriquois ave.

The selectmen also granted Massachusetts Electric Co. permission to excavate in Sunset Rock Road and Argilla Road.

Bay State Gas Co. was granted permission to excavate to install new gas services on Argilla Road and Wolcott Avenue; to renew gas services on Center Street and Poor Street; to replace gas mains on Lucerne Drive; and to repair gas mains on York Street, Lucerne Drive, Enmore Street, Sutherland Street, Carmel Road and Andover Street.

As sewer commissioners, the selectmen granted approval of a sanitary sewer connection for Louise Ponte of 16 Alden Road, provided that the work is done to the satisfaction of the board of health and the director of public works.

Ferber Academy Speaker

Michael Ferber, associate professor of English at Yale University, will speak on "The Draft and World War II?" Friday, May 2 at 7 p.m. in Phillips Academy's Cochran Chapel. His talk, sponsored by the ecumenical chaplaincy and ministry of Phillips Academy, is open to the public.

An acquitted co-conspirator with Dr. Benjamin Spock and the Rev. William S. Coffin in the draft controversy case of 1968-69, Michael Ferber has continued to speak out for what he views as the rights of individual conscience in the face of growing militarism. His talk will focus on what alternatives are available to concerned citizens, whether of draft age or not. Religion and Politics in Professor Ferber has The Poetry of William published a thesis on Blake.

John Grady

Grady Featured At Maifest

It is evident that this year's audience at Maifest to benefit the Methuen Memorial Music Hall may anticipate a music-filled evening.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Ellen Stahle and Mrs. Ellen Batal announce that one of America's foremost organists, John Grady, will be guest artist on May 16th at 8:30 p.m. during the Pop Concert portion of the evening. The Brauhaus Bavarian Band will entertain for the final portion of the evening for dancing, singing, listening.

John Grady is director of music of New York's famed St. Patrick's Cathedral and the official organist of the Metropolitan Opera Company. He is a concert artist, conductor, composer and former head of the Manhattan School of Music's organ department who began his musical career at the age of ten and later was accompanist for many notables of opera and the concert stage. He has studied with Virgil Fox, Eric Zardo, Bernard Wagenaar and Emanuel Balaban. While attending Fordham University, he was director of music for its radio station and subsequently did graduate work at Juillard and Columbia University.

He conducted a magnificent choral and orchestral program for Pope Paul VI's visit to the United Nations in 1965, was organist for the Papal Mass at Yankee Stadium and guest organist for the dedication of the Vatican Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

John Grady has the distinction of having been invited to play at Paris's Notre Dame six times, where, according to the New York Times, he "set the dust to dancing to an audience of 2500 who gave non-secular bravos to this brilliant American artist."

As official organist at the Metropolitan Opera since 1965, John Grady has played over 600 performances — and at each executed a special feat of musicianship. Because the organ is in the pit and the pipes are a block and a half away, he must play a quarter of a beat ahead of the conductor at all times.

Grady was organist and director of music for the New York City visit of Pope John Paul II in October 1979 — both at St. Patrick's Cathedral and Yankee Stadium.

His performance at Maifest will mark his first visit to Methuen and the great organ at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall. The hall will be arranged in pop concert style for this special event. Bavarian costumed waitresses will offer wine, cheese and snacks during the evening and the popular Maifest flower mart will add a decorative note.

Reservations are available for tables of five on the floor or for balcony seating by telephone at Ellen Stahle or Mrs. Everett Wagner or mail orders may be sent to George Newall, treasurer, Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Inc., Box 463, Methuen, Mass. 01844.

Food Supply

A city, state, or country is weakened when it is not able to produce most of its basic food supply. Virgil, Roman poet 70-19 B.C.

also warned his countrymen that the loss of agriculture would bring the destruction of the nation, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

recognition of high regard for the long-time school committeeman both as a person and as a public servant.

The closing of the building as an elementary school, should not necessarily eliminate the original honor accorded Doherty, and there was no concern for retaining of the current designation of East and West junior highs, he said.

Doherty served for 39 years on the Andover school committee, on many occasions as its chairman and secretary.

Among principal concerns during his tenure, in addition to educational programs was school buildings and grounds. A former news reporter, Doherty established the insurance company now located on Elm Street 46 years ago.

Gives Energy Assist

In helping to meet the costs of escalating energy prices the Merrimack Valley United Fund appropriated $75,000 to member agencies that own buildings.

Before any monies were released, the United Fund has each agency submit a list of methods and options that they used to try and combat the ever-rising cost of heating. Upon receiving the required information, the United Fund allocated the needed monies to the agencies, by taking each agency's deficit percentage and applying it to the total amount of dollars available.

The following agencies in the Greater Andover Area have received energy funds: Andover-North Andover YMCA ($2,989), Cerebral Palsy ($1,494), Catholic Charities ($285), Greater Lawrence Boys Club ($4,483) ($7,300 for year in deficit), Greater Lawrence YMCA ($1,494), Greater Lawrence YWCA ($7,099), Jewish Community Center ($1,120), Greater Lawrence Salvation Army ($57), St. Ann's Home ($3,889).

10 Meeting For Host Families

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 1, 1980

The American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS) announces that a group of approximately 25 students from Spain, aged 13 to 21 will stay with host families in Andover from July 6 to Aug. 8. A program of cultural activities and instruction in American culture and conversation will take place throughout the four-week program.

Each host family receives a scholarship ranging to participate in an AIFS program of their choice in Europe next summer. In addition, host family children are invited to participate in the group activities free of charge. The host children also stand to benefit from the direct exposure to the Spanish language offered to them in their homes by the guest students. These students come to Andover with their own pocket money, and all program activities and insurance are already taken care of.

Interested families wishing to have a student should contact Julia Flosman.

On May 9, Friday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m., at the Memorial Hall Library there will be a film and slides on the A.I.F.S. program. A discussion of the aspects of the 1980 Summer in America program in Andover will be discussed.

houses."

Stephen Cotton of Foster's Pond added that, since the planning board has not yet granted a special cluster permit to allow the development, the board should "examine very closely the question of how much gravel removal will be necessary to fulfill this (developer's) plan."

"You have the discretion to inquire further into this under the current bylaw, and I urge you to go very slowly," Cotton said to applause.

Other residents expressed the concern that the developer would move ahead too quickly on digging up the land. "It concerns me that you are getting into other phases before the first one is adequately finished," said Robert Bradway of 18 Chandler Circle.

"I would not like to see the entire area partially developed without assurances that all of it will eventually be fully developed," he continued.

Bradway added that motor-bikers "already use the land that's now been cleared on weekends. If land is made available for house lots now, but the houses are not built right away, how will that land be used in the interim?"

Foss answered that only two sections would be worked on at one time. One lot would have to be "covered with loam, seeded, have the utilities in, and be hot-topped," but without a house built on it, before the developer would begin digging up another lot, he said.

The town has surveyed the two sections now being developed and is satisfied that Andover-Cormier is not moving too quickly, said Kear.

For security, a locked gate has been placed across the development, Foss added.

Donald Leroy of 173 Lowell St. asked if the developer would fill any wetlands.

"We may fill portions, but it will not effect your land," answered Dana Perkins spokesman Paul Ferrante.

"Planning board, please take notice," said Leroy, smiling.

"You should have voted for the wetlands bylaw at town meeting," replied Chairman Patricia Curtin, drawing laughter from the group.

Ferrante opened the meeting with a description of changes in the original plan for the total development.

Originally, the developer had planned to extend Chandler Circle and Canterbury Street, to connect Lowell and Beacon Streets and provide access to homes in the development.

Instead, the developer now plans to build a cul-de-sac at the end of Chandler Circle, and two cul-de-sacs on Canterbury Street.

Lowell Street and Beacon Street will not connect, avoiding traffic and safety problems for the town, Ferrante said.

In addition, the golf course in the development will remain in use permanently, and always be left as open space, said Foss. The course will be leased to the Andover Country Club for 99 years, he said.

Other open areas will also be maintained throughout the development under the requirements of cluster zoning, Ferrante said, including some golf course fairways.

"Do you mean that you could have people playing golf in someone's front yard?"

asked Paul Briggs of Chandler Circle.

"Yes," replied Ferrante, as the audience laughed.

Tuneup

Check your owner's manual to determine if it is time to tune the engine, remembering that a well tuned engine is one step toward fuel conservation!

Specifications vary, but spring is often one of the recommended times for a tuneup. If so, here are the parts and operations involved: spark plugs, points and condenser (if any), carburetor adjustment, air filter, all components of the emission control system; the distributor spark advance, and the ignition timing. This is also a good time to check the battery, fuel pump, drive belts, and the engine compression.

Sheep Shearing Set For Center

The Old Center at North Andover will once again be the setting for the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum's annual spring event, its Ninth Annual Sheep Shearing Day, Sunday, May 18, and all events are free.

A dozen sheep will be shorn by Chris Cerino of Topsfield and Bruce A. Clement from Keene, N.H. Kevin Ford will also be on hand to show the crowd how sheep were shorn before the invention of electric shears. Other steps in the woolen making process will be demonstrated as well. Ed Senior of Lawrence will share his 50 years of experience as a sorter of wool in the city's textile mills. The use and methods of natural dyes will be demonstrated by Greta Hellmer and Nicole Harrington, both of the Museum's education staff. Other members of the education staff will be inside the Museum to show visitors how woolens were made in this country, both before and after the invention of the water-powered machinery that transformed the Merrimack Valley.

From 1:30 to 2 p.m., hand spinners will participate in the New England Spinning Competition, hoping for one of three cash prizes. Judging of the competition will be done by Professor John Goodwin of the University of Lowell, and the prizes will be awarded at four in the afternoon by Catherine A. Barnett, executive director of the Handweavers Guild of America. Meanwhile, other craftspersons will be on hand to sell the quality items they have been hard at work producing all the winter months.

One event, not done at the previous sheep shearing days, is already causing excitement. For the first time, sheep dogs will be on the Common at North Andover, competing with one another at keeping the sheep on prescribed course, judged and rated at the performance. This event is scheduled for the middle of the afternoon.

Behind all these activities will be the live music of Art Schrader of Sturbridge, who bills himself as a singing historian. Art will perform authentic ballads of mill workers from the last century as well as provide other music celebrating industry.

For the first time in three years the Museum is able to go without admission charges, because all events are sponsored by the Friends of the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum. The Museum faces the North Andover Common and is at 800 Massachusetts Avenue which has direct access to Interstate Route 495.

Rug Repair

The Essex Institute education department announces an intensive workshop in oriental rug repair, to be held Monday June 2 through Thursday June 5. The class will meet from 9-12 noon and 1-4 p.m. each day.

Participants are asked to bring an oriental rug in need of repair. The instructor, Pat Konecky, will show each person how to repair the backing and the fringe, and how to weave in new wool.

*Prices checked at actual Andover area supermarkets on 4/22/80.

Conventional supermarkets don't deliberately overcharge their customers. Buy they do have to charge for the many expensive extras that you won't find at Heartland Jr. Food Warehouse. Extras like expensive shelving and fancy decor, check-cashing services, bags and bundle boys. Every week, conventional supermarkets advertise a few dozen money-savings specials. But at Heartland Jr., everything in the store is on special, every day. That's because we buy only those top-name brand items that we can get at incredible savings . . . the same savings that you'll enjoy at the checkout counter.

At Heartland Jr., we know that seeing is believing, so we invite you to check out our savings for yourself, You'll probably be as enthusiastic as Mrs. Peter Sutton who said,

"Everything is a lot cheaper at Heartland Jr. in Andover. The hamburger alone is 20¢ a pound cheaper than where I used to buy it on sale every week! It's worth driving 13 miles from Boxford to save every week."

Nuclear Debate Tonight

A Nuclear Panel Discussion has been planned for tonight, as part of Andover High's "Energy for the '80's" Week.

The Ecology Club is sponsoring the debate, in the belief that Andover citizens, only 30 miles from the planned Seabrook Nuclear Power Plant, should be aware of the issues. Furthermore, New England derives a major share of its electricity from nuclear energy.

The discussion will be held in the West Jr. High Auditorium, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., with the last 45 minutes devoted to questions from the audience.

Memorial Hall Library

Circus Poster Exhibit

A traveling exhibit of 22 original circus lithographs on loan from the Circus World Museum and the State Historical Society of Wisconsin are on display at Memorial Hall library through May 15. Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey, Forepaugh & Sells Bros., Cole Bros., Downie Bros., Christy Bros., and Hagenbeck-Wallace circuses are represented in this exhibit.

Posters such as these were used to herald the coming of the American circus during its classical era from the 1870's through the 1940's. Advance men and their crews would distribute 5,000 to 8,000 posters each day, converting the average American city into an inescapable blaze of color. This massive concentration of advertising power remains even today as the standard, unmatched by any other industry or promotion.

Posters were lithographed utilizing stone printing plates and were printed in varied sizes to accommodate store windows or the sides of barns.

Arrangements for this exhibit have been made through the Eastern Mass. Regional Library System.

Growing With Books

Bridget Bennett, Memorial Hall Library's Children's Librarian, will present a program "Growing with Books" on Wednesday, May 7 at 10 a.m. Although open to everyone, this program is planned to appeal especially to young mothers and to coincide with the Littlest Listeners storyhour. Coffee will be served in the Children's Room prior to the program.

Horseman's Catalog

With interest in horses at a seasonal peak due to the upcoming Kentucky Derby, Memorial Hall Library is featuring as the reference book of the week "The Horseman's Catalog" by Craig and Peter Norback. Some of the areas covered are: how to select and judge a horse, where to find equine practitioners, how to breed a horse, requirements for joining the U. S. Equestrian Team and the location of horse motels and hotels. This complete catalog covering all aspects of horsemanship is a new addition to Memorial Hall Library's reference collection.

On display in the Children's Room this week is a collection of books made by the children of St. Roberts Country Day School. Tires

Each tire should be inspected for tread wear when the snow tires are removed. Remember to rotate your tires according to the manufacturer's recommendations, and to make sure that the spare is in good condition. Having the wheels balanced should be an automatic part of remounting your regular tires; this facilitates even wear on all four tires. Brakes should be checked every 10,000 miles; see if it's that time again for you.

Skunk cabbage of New England was originally a tropical plant. The fleshy flower petals on the spadix respire at a high rate, and the internal temperature of the spadix is nearly a constant 72 degrees F., during a wide range of air and soil temperatures. It is not understood how the plant generates heat, Massachusetts Audubon says.

Andover Reading Project Cited

An Andover School Department project is among 14 to be honored May 7 in ceremonies marking the birth of the new Department of Education.

Esther L. Campbell, director, Andover's Individualized Reading System (AIRS) will be among those specially invited to the historic ceremonies to be held at Bunker Hill Community College, Boston, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"We wanted to use the occasion of the opening ceremonies to honor those who played such a part in the success of educational programs under the old Education Division of HEW," said Thomas J. Burns, designated Regional Transition Coordinator for Region I.

"The effectiveness of the Project AIRS is an excellent example of what can be done on the local level by educators with Federal government assistance."

AIRS is a diagnostic/prescriptive reading program designed to teach basic skills and foster independent enjoyment of literature.

AIRS basic skills for grades 1-6 are defined by a comprehensive set of behavioral objectives to which all instructional activities, materials, and tests are keyed. All reading instruction is teacher-directed in grades 1 and 2, where lesson plans are correlated to a specific publisher's text to build a strong phonetic base.

When the basic decoding skills are firmly established, program comprehension, vocabulary, and handwriting components become more flexible to accommodate varied learning patterns.

As students progress beyond beginning reading, more time is spent in individualized reading and literature discussion groups. As comprehension, vocabulary, and structural skills comprise an increasingly greater portion of reading instruction, individualized and free reading play a larger part in the curriculum.

Student achievement at every level of instruction is monitored with cumulative criterion-referenced tests in phonics, spelling, and writing.

The Andover East Junior High girls' gymnastic team was undefeated this season. This is the first time East has had an undefeated girls' team.

Coached by Kenneth Maglio with assistance from Liz Farnham, Bill Hart, and Gerry Doyle of the high school team, the following members competed this year: Nancie Pageau, Jean Guillet, Lisa Pomeroy, Cheryl Scammell, Moira Recesso, Wendy Young, Joanne Saalfrank, Marilyn Ingram, Sara Crowley, Vicki Simpson, Dawn Aikman, Ellenk Flett, Nicole Marcella, Carol Avalos, Kim Seifert, Lauren McCormack, Shari Coon, Kim Ferance, Laura Grams and Darlene Cuddy.

Everyone is looking forward to the Student Council dance to be held tomorrow night in the gym. The students are urged to dress up as their favorite character.

Refreshments will be sold by the student council and a local disc jockey will provide the music.

Reichert Honored At Colgate

David Reichert, son of Walter and Therese Reichert of 49 Cheever Circle, Andover, was among 20 George Cobb Fellows recognized at a ceremony at Colgate University on April 21.

Reichert, a sophomore at Colgate, is a 1978 graduate of Andover High. He was recognized for his leadership as an undergraduate at the University.

The award, established in 1944 to stimulate and recognize service to Colgate, is named for George W. Cobb, a member of the Colgate Class of 1894 and a trustee from 1907 to 1945.

'Art In Bloom'

Plans are well underway for the fifth annual "Art in Bloom," a traditional celebration of spring at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The festival of art and flowers, May 6, 7, and 8 is the major fundraising event of the year organized by the MFA's volunteer Ladies' Committee. Mrs. Ralph H. Hill, left, and Mrs. Dean R. Swan of Andover, members of the Andover Garden Club, are standing in front of "Two Children," an American painting by Jefferson Gauntt (1806-1864) from the Karolik Collection. "Two Children" is one of the paintings to be interpreted for "Art in Bloom."

John J. McDermott of New York, winner of the Boston Marathon on April 19, 1897, lost 10 pounds, stopped five times en route and declared at the end, "I doubt I shall ever again run a marathon race."

Although a Greek competed in the Boston Marathon in 1901 and an Egyptian seaman in 1907 (and the first of numerous Finns appeared as early as 1914), the event which firmly placed the Boston Marathon on a high international plateau was the dramatic victory of a malnourished Athenian bill collector, Stylianos Kyriakides in 1946.

Camp Y-Wood, the Greater Lawrence YWCA Day Camp for girls 6-13, is now accepting registrations for the 1980 summer season of four two-week sessions. The camp is located on a nineteen acre site in Salem, N. H., featuring meadows, groves of trees and a well-developed water-front on Captain's Pond. Bus service to the camp serves all Greater Lawrence communities.

The camp will again be directed by Mrs. Albert Retelle of Andover, who is returning for her 18th year. She was one of the founders of the camp and her interest in nature and animal study set the theme for the camp which features many farm animals living on the camp site and playing an important role in the camp program.

Mrs. Retelle is interviewing candidates for staff positions and applications are available at the YWCA desk. Call the YWCA desk for more information and a camp brochure.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Mae Whalen Taylor of Marblehead, well-known book reviewer, presented a variety of books which she had chosen to be entertaining, enlightening or amusing for summer reading.

Geese

All species of geese mate for life. Many geese migrate thousands of miles to nesting grounds above the Arctic Circle where the short Arctic summer allows little time for laying eggs, hatching, and rearing a brood. Time is short so it is advantageous for them to stay together rather than to seek new mates each year, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Discus Records Broken At State Relays Here

The Andover High School Boy and Girl Tracks teams, pushed up into Class A just for the State Relays, turned in a creditable showing against the bigger schools with third place finishes in the 60-school meet held at Eugene Lovely stadium on April 26.

Highlight of the meet was a school record breaking win by the Boy's discus team of Steve Rosen, Paul Reichert, and Dave Avery. Rosen threw 146'2", Reichert 141'5" and Avery 132'10".

The sprint team, running without the injured Noel Pizarro, ran a strong second in the 440 relay and a third in the 880.

Mevin Berger ran super legs in keeping the Golden Warriors in contention, in spite of not being at full strength.

This Saturday, May 3, the Annual Booster's Invitational Meet will be held at Lovely Field Starting at 1 p.m. This meet is the only combined scoring Boys and Girls meet held in the state and promises an exciting afternoon for area track fans.

Conditions Set For Gym Sale

The Cardinal Cushing gymnasium on Haverhill street may be sold for use as small offices, multi-family dwellings, or a storage area, but not for manufacturing or commercial use, the selectmen decided Monday night.

That decision was reached after the town manager asked the selectmen to determine the restrictions that will be placed on the sale of the gym, along with the Bradlee school in Ballardvale and the Ballardvale community center.

Town meeting approved the sale of the three town-owned buildings, all currently unused, two weeks ago.

Discussion of the Bradlee school and the community center building was postponed until next week's conference session, and will continue during the selectmen's June 2 conference session.

The selectmen delayed discussing the Ballardvale community center in part so that 'Vale residents could have more time to prepare for participating in the discussion.

Selectman Susan Poore explained that she did not want the selectmen to discuss selling the school until they know "what the building and the land are worth to the town and to the 'Vale."

"We've already waited 22 years (to sell the Bradlee school)," added Selectman Norma Gammon. "We might as well wait a little longer."

The selectmen ruled out manufacturing in the Cardinal Cushing even though the town manager said he had received a "serious proposal" from a manufacturer of small computer parts.

The company would have 15 employees working in the building, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said, and would ship their products out on from one to three United Parcel Service (UPS) trucks every day.

Clark said he has also received proposals from prospective buyers who would use it as a gymnasium or health spa, as an apartment house with approximately 12 apartments, as a sheltered workshop, and as a teen center.

However, the manufacturing company had "demonstrated the strongest interest," Clark said.

Chairman James Abramson pointed out that the town would probably receive more proposals when the building is actually put up for public sale.

The computer parts company, which Clark called a "light manufacturing" operation, could create fewer traffic and parking problems than if the building were used as a gym or teen center, argued Gammon and Poore.

However, selectmen Edward Harris, Gerry Silverman and Abramson opposed selling the building to any manufacturer.

Abramson explained that once the zoning board of appeals granted a variance to allow manufacturing in the gym, which is located in a residential area, the variance would be transferred with any future sale of the property.

"There is no such category as light manufacturing," said Abramson. "The initial use could be light manufacturing, but somewhere down the line it could be sold for use as heavy manufacturing."

"Manufacturing is manufacturing," he added. "It was the intent of the board never to put manufacturing in there in the first place."

Harris and Silverman said they would not oppose a health club or commercial operation in the building, but Poore and Gammon objected because the town could then end up with "Pizza Hut or Dunkin Donuts in there," said Poore.

"The ideal situation would be to sell it for apartment use, as it is zoned," said Silverman.

Poore added that "limited, low-key professional offices" would also be acceptable. Use as doctors' offices would be unacceptable because doctors see a high volume of patients, she said.

Poore noted that the size of the building and the available parking would help restrict the possible use.

"A reasonable attempt to maintain the exterior of the building" should also be a condition of the sale, Poore said.

Use as a storage area was first proposed last year by the Andover Companies, but that proposal was rejected by town meeting.

"I think it's a shame that that proposal didn't go through at that time," said Harris. "The quicker we get rid of this building, the better off the town will be."

Digital Holding Option

Explaining that there has been "so much activity in the last six to eight months" in the development of Andover Tech Park, a representative of the owner appeared before the selectmen Monday night to update the board on "what's going on."

Representing Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co., owners of the industrial park, Steve Kasnet told the selectmen that Digital Equipment has been granted an option to buy the remaining land in the park, a 102-acre parcel owned by 93 Trust. The land is bounded by the Merrimack River, the Hewlett-Packard plant, the Polaroid building, and Old River Road, he said.

Digital must notify Arkwright of its intentions within 60 days, said Kasnet.

Digital has also agreed to buy 40 acres and a 240,000 sq. ft. building from Polaroid, Kasnet said, along with an option to buy an additional 10 to 10½ acres.

Digital plans to finish the Polaroid building in three to five months, he added.

Construction on the GCA Corp. building is proceeding "very quickly," Kasnet said, and the company hopes to occupy the building in November.

Intertel will occupy its 80,000 sq. ft. building, located on 24 acres, by July 15, he said. They are planning to eventually occupy a 240,000 sq. ft. building, he added.

Kasnet said Arkwright is reserving eight acres in the southeast quadrant for a potential interchange to Rte. 93.

What does it take to get convenient,
round-the-clock,

service?

Andover Bank

The company has discussed the interchange with the state, he said, explaining that the state is considering constructing a slip ramp.

"But that won't really do the job," said Kasnet. "A full cloverleaf is required, but it's not up to us."

Our History Won't Be Ditched

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The owners of Andover Tech Park have agreed to delay digging a drainage ditch that will serve GCA Corporation and Intertel through the Shattuck farm area in the northwest quadrant of the park, for five weeks, so that the Historical Commission can study the area for historic artifacts.

In addition, the owners, Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co., may fund part of a feasibility study (at an estimated $500) to examine moving three buildings on the property. The 30-ft. wide ditch will pass behind the buildings but will not interfere with them, according to Director of Community Development and Planning Rhys Kear.

The Historical Commission learned of plans to dig the ditch late last week and was "disturbed" because artifacts might be lost, and the ditch would make reuse of the buildings "impractical," said Wendy Frontiero, preservation planner for the commission.

"There was no time to plan," Frontiero said yesterday, adding that the five-week delay leaves not enough time for a thorough study, but only time to "scurry around and do some basic recording on the foundations of the buildings."

Work on the drainage ditch has already begun, said Kear, but was not scheduled to begin in the Shattuck farm area for four weeks.

Arkwright agreed to wait an additional week before working on the farm property, leaving five weeks for the historical study, after an on-site meeting Tuesday morning of Arkwright representatives, Kear, Frontiero, and other historical commission members.

"The ditch has to be open by this fall," explained Kear, to help drain rain water from property owned by GCA Corporation and Intertel in the southwest quadrant. Eventually the ditch will serve other parts of the park as well, he said.

Digital Equipment Corp. currently holds an option on the Shattuck land in question, but has not yet exercised that option.

"Five weeks is not much time for an archaeological dig," Frontiero said. An archaeologist from the Massachusetts Historical Commission will meet with town historical commission members next week to discuss the dig, she said.

Further, the state will monitor the digging of the ditch, Frontiero said, adding that the site has been nominated for the National Register of Historic Places.

Study on the buildings will begin May 13, Frontiero said. The buildings are the Abbott Noyes Shattuck house (known as the ice cream stand), a country store, and the Abbott Shattuck farmhouse.

The future of three other buildings, located behind the ditch, is also in question. Those buildings are a caretaker's house, a mid-nineteenth century mill, and a mid-twentieth century barn, said Frontiero.

Frontiero said the historical commission is "pushing to preserve the three main buildings — we don't want to give up any more buildings than we have to."

The Historical Commission had hoped some of the buildings could be renovated and used in their current location, perhaps by Digital, she said.

"But with Valle's (restaurant), Rte. 93, and now a 30-foot ditch, this is not the best place for those buildings to be reused," Frontiero said.

The feasibility study will examine whether the buildings should be moved, and where and how they could be moved, explained Kear.

Although Frontiero said the study should be "ultimately the responsibility of Arkwright, because they own the land," she said company representatives "were not thrilled about spending a few thousand dollars" for the study.

"For that reason Kear suggested that the town might fund half of the study as a 'goodwill' gesture, with the funds probably coming from the Department of Community Development and Planning.

However, this has not yet been approved by town officials, he added.

Collins Gets National Honor

By Linda S. Corbett

Dick Collins jokes that he's been named Track Coach of the Year by the National High School Coaches Association "mostly for survival," not success.

But then he concedes that the honor is "based on the career more than any one season," and winning has certainly been the result of the game in his 21 years at Andover High.

His track team has won seven state titles, including the one it shared with Ayer last year.

They were New England champions in 1970.

They have won the State Relays 18 out of the last 20 years (last Saturday's third place was one of the two "losses.")

They've won 19 of the 20 Boosters Meets held on the home track (the one loss was way back in 1967.)

And they've won all but five Dual Meets (those with one other team) over the past 20 years. They compete in about 10 per year.

Still, Collins insists that he's never harped on winning and isn't hard on his team when they lose.

"My bark is worse alot worse than my bite," he says, but adds that he might require penance for an infringement of rules.

"I've always told them to go out and do their best," he says. "That seems to pay off. If they do their best, you're not going to lose too often."

He also attributes his success to the ability to get a lot of kids out for track each year, and keep them out.

"I'm a real stickler on following through with something," he says. "If they come out as sophomores, by the time they get to be seniors, you have winners."

He adds that unlike football, where you can only put 11 players on the field, you can enter four youths in a single track event. "If you have the numbers, it will pay off for you," he says.

Collins knows plenty about football, too: he's also coached Andover High's grid team for the past 21 years, with a high rate of success. He was named statewide Football Coach of the Year by the Boston Globe in 1974, and followed up with the Globe's statewide Track Coach of the Year title last year.

With little time left over after teaching (history) and coaching, Collins has often brought his family "along."

Daughter Carolyn, Class of 1976 at Andover High, was a football cheerleader back when Collins' teams were winning Super Bowls; Rick, Class of '78, played football for him and was a champion runner; Eddie, Class of '79, was football captain "a couple years back." Valerie, now a junior, was on the girls volleyball team and a basketball cheerleader, and Jacquelyn, a 9th grader at West Jr. High, is on the track team there.

Wife Pauline, Collins smiles, "tries to hold it all together."

Collins himself was on the football and track teams (he was a sprinter) at Dartmouth College, following a year at Phillips Academy, a native of Rhode Island, he taught five years at East Providence High School before coming to Andover.

His new coaching award is for District 1, which includes the six New England States and Upstate New York, and will be presented at the convention of the

Coach Richard Collins

National High School Coaches Association in Seattle late in June.

He Breaks 202-Year Tradition

By Linda S. Corbett

For the first time in the 202-year history of Phillips Academy, a day student has been elected president of the student body.

"So they tell me," replies Junior Howard Lebowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Lebowitz of 4 Bittersweet Lane, when asked about his historic "first."

The process began a few weeks ago when he circulated a petition for the necessary 200 names. A run-off election then narrowed the field of nine down to three, who spoke before an all-school meeting and then waited out two days of balloting.

His public speaking career has just begun, however. As Lebowitz will be presiding over an all-school meeting every other week or so. He'll be representing the student body to the faculty, alumni and trustees, and will be a "veniculum" between the students and other school-related groups. He figures he'll spend 12 to 15 hours a week in meetings.

This was the first stab at student government for Lebowitz, who says he has "good" grades and is on the school soccer, wrestling and lacrosse teams, as well as a tutor in algebra.

A alumnus of West Elementary School, Lebowitz took his 7th grade at Pike School and his 8th grade at West Jr. High, then moved over to PA for 9th. He has made no decision about what he'll study in college, but will start the search for a school this summer.

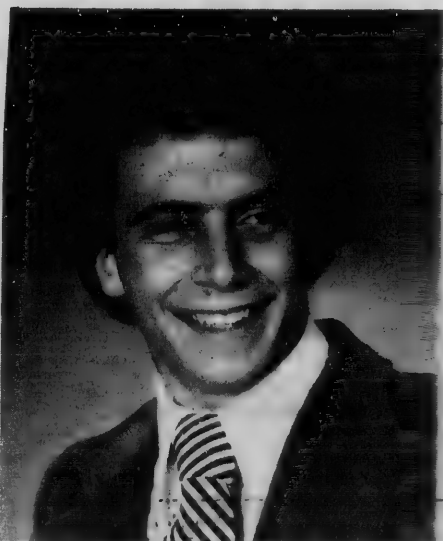

Two of his votes in the recent election came from twin brother James, also in the 11th grade at PA, and brother Craig, who's in the 10th grade.

They have a sister Marci, in the 6th grade at West Elementary.

Lebowitz says he's "apprenticing the current school president, Peter Davies, and in a prepared statement said he feels that "the school presidency is an office with limitless potential, the potential to assess and evaluate students' concerns, hopes and fears, or the potential to polarize and inflame student opinion against faculty, rules and regulations. A president who stimulates the polarization is a detriment to the school community; a president who unites students, faculty and administrators in a relationship of mutual understanding is performing an invaluable service for the academy."

While officially a "day student," as opposed to a "boarder," Lebowitz says he is on the campus at 7 a.m. for breakfast, and doesn't get home to West Andover until 9 or 10 at night.

Towns Prove To Be Terrible Housekeepers

An inspection of Andover's municipal buildings recently has proven what must be accepted as fact — towns or cities, are pretty generally terrible housekeepers.

A study done by the local building inspection department has resulted in the finding of several code violations, some of a minor nature, others which would require considerable work and expenditure to correct.

The examination of all municipal buildings was ordered by the town manager after problems at the Ballardvale Community Center revealed conditions which resulted in the closing of the structure.

The study was to determine in just what kind of shape the town's buildings were in, from the oldest to the newest.

It should not be surprising to have learned that in many cases there are needed repairs, and attention to adherence to building and safety codes.

As property owners, communities are guilty of considerable neglect, mostly of necessity.

Administrators may well recognize problems in buildings. They may advise boards and committees of the need of attention. Officials will undoubtedly recognize that some effort must be made toward correction.

But all that generally takes place before getting down to the nuts and bolts of putting together an annual budget to present for town meeting approval.

Generally the first items to go are in the maintenance category. Even if such suggested costs make it to town meeting floor, pretty generally the voters choose to opt for services, rather than pouring funds into buildings.

Other problems are now imposed by federal and state mandates, which dictate that should some extensive repair or renovation be contemplated for a public building, then adherence to architectural barrier removal must be followed, adding further to the expense.

Andover's multi-million dollar school plant has been in need of considerable attention for some time, but falls victim annually to providing funds for educational purposes, particularly, rather than preservation of the investment in buildings.

This year, the town will spend a few hundred thousand to repair roofs on some schools simply because it has become an absolute necessity.

But other repairs will be allowed to go by the wayside again.

In the months ahead, the list of repairs and other recommendations of the building inspector contained in his recent report, will be accomplished as much as possible.

But, we would have to guess, that a year from now, the general building conditions won't be much different, with the exception of adherence to safety codes.

Currently the town has a good crutch to rely on, in the examination of East Junior High for possible consolidation of municipal offices, when no longer needed for school use.

Such consolidation, if economically feasible, will allow the town to rid itself of some municipal properties, which is highly recommended.

Since maintenance and upkeep of property has traditionally been a low priority item, it would seem to prove that towns should not be property owners. Thus the less real estate it owns, the better off both the town and the taxpayers will be.

A baseball game has been arranged between local players and the Phillips Academy nine which will probably be played one week from tomorrow afternoon.

The Journeyman Tailors' Union of America, local 403 of Andover, has presented a new bill of prices, which was signed by the firms of W. J. Burns and P. J. Hannon, merchant tailors of this town.

On Tuesday afternoon at half past five, John A. Hurley, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hurley, was knocked down by a bicyclist who was riding down North Main street at a rapid speed. The young man did not stop to see if the child was hurt but kept on his way toward Lawrence. The child was taken to its home and Dr. Leitch was summoned who found that his collar bone was broken.

Thirty-two fire alarms, some of them of incendiary origin, acres of woodland burned over, cord wood consumed, houses endangered but saved through the efforts of the firemen, vandalism in the South Church cemetery resulting in thousands of dollars worth of damage, a garage and filling station broken into, and the police scouring the woods for a desperate bandit made a record for the week which every self-respecting Andover citizen deploras.

Six Lawrence men and one Andover man appeared before Judge Colver J. Stone in Andover police court Tuesday morning on charges of drunkenness, disturbance and larceny of ten chickens and were fined $10 each on the first two complaints while the larceny charge was placed on file.

The Perley F. Gilbert Associates, Lowell architectural firm, was awarded the contract for the two elementary school additions to the West and Shawsheen schools by the school committee Tuesday night.

The first twilight vegetable meeting of the current season was held last evening at the Henderson farm on Haggett's Pond Road. A tour of the farm included chemical week control of spinach, lettuce, beets and radishes.

A booming construction season is indicated for Andover. Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman has issued permits for new construction and additions totalling $542,275 during April.

Between 500 and 600 adults, concerned over the drug situation in Andover today and in the summer months ahead, heard sobering news Monday night from Dr. James O'Shea and Jim Alonzi and ex-addicts from Reality, Inc. A number of Andover youngsters are taking drugs, they were told. Alonzi said the problem was worse in the lower grades than among seniors, and that drug deaths could be expected soon.

Between 500 and 600 students, mostly from Merrimack College, marched through Andover Tuesday afternoon, protesting the extension of the war into Cambodia.

It appears that the addition to the West School will be ready for occupancy when classes resume in September.

Construction will begin shortly on a picturesque courtyard that will serve as the main entrance to Phillips Academy beginning with the fall term.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

U.S. Allies Meet in Secret,
Talk of Hostage-Aid PlansBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- The United States' European allies have been holding secret, urgent meetings to consider how they can help President Carter resolve the Iran crisis.

The allies temporarily called their ambassadors home from Tehran. They have also brought other diplomatic pressures on Iran behind the scenes, and now they have joined the United States in applying economic sanctions.

Carter sees the allied moves as evidence that he has finally persuaded them to cooperate. The president is well-meaning but naive. Here is what has really been going on behind his back:

Our allies have lost confidence in Carter's leadership. He has waffled back and forth on the issue of using military force to resolve the crisis. Most of our allies believe Carter was too timid, too uncertain at the beginning.

Now they fear he may do something reckless under political pressure. They are worried he may take drastic action to save his own political skin.

Thus, the allies are anxiously discussing how to save Jimmy Carter from himself. They are pressuring Iran to release the hostages in the hopes that this will prevent Carter from doing something desperate.

Intelligence analysts, meanwhile, have begun to have some second thoughts about Iran's president, Abolhassan Bani-Sadr. He had been represented as a moderate who was eager to settle the hostage crisis.

But now intelligence experts suspect that Bani-Sadr was simply trying to lure President Carter into making humiliating concessions. The CIA has been studying Bani-Sadr and has come up with a psychological profile which describes him as "a self-styled ideologue of the revolution" and "a dangerous religious fanatic."

So the analysts suspect that Iran's Revolutionary Council, perhaps including Bani-Sadr, has been trying to make a fool of Uncle Sam. For example, one intelligence report warned that the Revolutionary Council never had any intention of removing the hostages from the custody of the militants - even if Carter had made all the conciliatory gestures that have been demanded. The council would merely have assumed responsibility for the hostages' health and safety.

In a related event, Defense Secretary Harold Brown has written a secret memorandum to the president urging that U.S. military power in the Persian Gulf be bolstered. The United States now has 30 warships and 1,800 Marines in the crisis zone. But Brown also wants enough supplies in the area to support 10,000 Marines.

"This logistical force could sail to a designated Persian Gulf area port in about five days," wrote Brown. "There, it would be met by the combat troops who would have arrived by airlift."

WILY WALTER: Vice President Walter Mondale may not be holier than thou, but he is probably a bit craftier. He managed to take advantage of a loophole in the tax laws that enabled him to get a refund from the Internal Revenue Service last year of nearly $4,000.

We reported last year that Mondale had routinely returned the unspent portion of his modest $10,000 expense account to the U.S. Treasury. What we didn't know then and do now is that Mondale declared $6,070 of the taxpayers' money that he gave back as a charitable contribution on his tax return.

Even though expense money is not considered taxable income, a loophole in the tax laws enables the vice president and other public officials to give back public funds they don't spend and to receive tax credits. In other words, Mondale managed to use public money for his own private tax benefit.

According to the IRS, what Mondale did is completely legal. But surely there is something wrong when government officials can use public money for private gain.

FIRST-FAMILY FAVORS: When congressmen borrow potted plants from the nation's botanical gardens to decorate party rooms, they are charged a nominal $20 rental fee. But when the plants were used for a luncheon in honor of First Lady Rosalynn Carter, the $20 fee was waived.

WATCH ON WASTE: The bureaucrats at the Office of Education recently gave nearly $30,000 to the Community College of Micronesia in the sunny south Pacific to find out why local students dropped out of college. Of course, the balmy climate of Micronesia is perfect for year-round swimming and surfing; so it's not difficult to figure out that the students would rather be at the beach than at school. Perhaps the $30,000 would have been better spent on those students who were anxious to go to college, but were unable to.

* The Coast Guard is planning to spend $10,000 on showers and lockers at its headquarters building -- even though a Transportation Department facility is available 20 minutes away. The Coast Guard, of course, is part of the Transportation Department, whose gym offers eight exercise classes for employees, free of charge. The annual cost of $120,000 includes the salaries of four exercise physiologists and the administration of stress and neuromuscular tests.

Opening Day

Little League Opens Season

By Dan Grams

Despite threatening weather throughout the day, the Andover Little League kicked off its 1980 season with a bang. A crowd of well over 400 fans braved the raw overcast day to take in the opening ceremonies at the Playstead. Thanks to the parents support and tremendous hustling and play of the ballplayers, opening day was a success.

With the large crowd braving the cold, cloudy day, Joe Caffrey welcomed everyone followed by an invocation offered by Rev. Dr. Jack Daniels. The first ball was thrown out by Selectman Col. Edward Harris. The catcher for Col. Harris was Matty McManus of the Cardinals.

Giants 5, Pirates 4

In the opening game, John Marrocco's long double to centerfield triggered a 5 run second inning to sneak past the Pirates 5-4. The strong fielding of second baseman Craig Wilson and left fielder Brandon McCue enabled the Giant pitcher Chris Colsia to go the route and pick up the win.

Braves 10, Dodgers 7

Jeff Penner's one man show sparked the Braves past the Dodgers 10-7. Penner backed his 6 hit pitching with back to back Home Runs to lead the Brave attack.

Jeff McNeil, Dana Lally and Steve Menicis chipped in with safeties, while Chris DiClementi, Jonathan Yeserski, and Greg Long were defensive standouts for the Braves.

Bo Jones was the lone bright spot for the Dodgers, tripling in the first and making an outstanding diving catch of a line drive.

Cardinals 14, Cubs 2

The National League Champion Cardinals opened their defense of their title with a 14-2 victory over the Cubs. Ted Cormier, Steve Surbette, and Robbie Carpenter shared the pitching chores for the Cards, limiting the Cubs to just 4 hits, two of them coming off the bat of Cam Deery.

Ted Cormier was the offensive star for the Cardinals with three hits. Doubles by Matthew McManus, and Robbie Carpenter, and John Gangi's two safeties paced a well-balanced 12 hit attack.

Both sides turned in tremendous defensive plays as Cub third baseman Chris Hansberry robbed Jeff Tarro of a sure extra base hit. Tarro in turn made a terrific stop of a bad hop and gunned a runner down to get revenge for the Cards.

Despite the score, the game was well played with good quality plays turned in by both sides.

Mets

The Mets, due to a seven team league, drew a bye and will open their season Monday against the Dodgers.

American League

Andover Little League Baseball season got underway Saturday with victories in the American Major League for the Yankees, Tigers, and White Sox.

Yankees 16, Twins 3

Damon Dyer, Dean Knight and Tom Tormey led a 15-hit attack which swamped the Twins early in the game. Dyer collected three singles and a double while Knight and Tormey had three hits each. Mark Hashem, Tom DeLeire and Dave Moson shared the pitching with Hashem picking up the win. Greg Tormey was outstanding on defense.

George Heseltine had a perfect day with three hits, and Chris Sapuppo had a double for the losers, while Mark Berberian sparked on defense.

Tigers 9, Red Sox 1

The hard-hitting Tigers led by Mark Doherty, Kevin Rourke and Shane Smith pounded out 10 hits to down the Red Sox.

Sport Shop Edges McCrackens

After years of dominating the regular season play of the junior division within the Department of Community Services Men's Basketball League, the Sport Shop finally came up with an outstanding play-off performance and edged a powerful McCrackens team two games to one in a best of three final series.

In the past years the Sport Shop always showed remarkable consistency during regular season play only to have the play-off championship elude it. This year did not seem to be any different. Once again, the Sport Shop dominated division play all season long. Suffering only one defeat in 14 games, the squad's only loss came at the hands of the number two McCrackens team. However, in the playoffs, the division champs got off to a slow start against an inspired Trombly Motor Coach team as they dropped the opener of the semi-finals match-up. Forced to come from behind, the Sport Shop rallied to take the next two games and advanced into the finals.

In other semi-final round action McCrackens had its hands full with a tough P.M. Cleaning squad that simply refused to quit. Although last year's play-off champion P.M. Cleaning team lost in two straight games to a superior McCrackens club, a great comeback in game two nearly forced the contest into overtime. However, the posed and talented McCrackens team pulled the game out of the fire with no time showing on the clock and advanced to the finals. Determined to show why they considered themselves to be equal or even better than the division champs, McCrackens took the first game of the final series by a score of 46 to 42. Having been edged out once, the Sport Shop now was in a "must win" situation.

Led by team captain Al Eggert and guard Phil Manna, the Sport Shop squeaked out a 61-68 victory setting up the final showdown that had to be one of the best games of the year. Off to a quick start in game three, the shooting of Sport Shop's Alex Palmer got his team into what at the time seemed to be a comfortable seven point half-time lead.

However, McCrackens was not to be denied.

Tom Teichman and Pete Breen scored 22 points between them in the second half and started a comeback that had the game tied at 45-45 with just 30 seconds to go.

After calling its last time out, the Sport Shop had the ball and the opportunity to win the contest. Running down the clock to the two seconds mark, Al Eggert forced up and hit a 20 foot jump shot as he was being double teamed to put the game out of reach for McCrackens. Despite a tremendous performance by both teams, the Sport Shop came away with the game and its first play-off championship in quite some time.

Final regular season standings were as follows:

	W-L
Sport Shop	13-1
McCrackens	12-2
P.M. Cleaning	10-4
Trombly Motor Coach	9-5
College Ice	5-9
Hockey Shop	4-10
E.B. Security	2-12
Town Grill	1-13

Babe Ruth Tryouts Set

Andover Senior (16-18) Babe Ruth League Registration And Tryouts

The Andover entry in the newly expanded Merrimack Valley Senior Babe Ruth (16-18) League, will hold initial registrations for the 18 member squad on Saturday, May 10, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Playstead Field, located behind the East Junior High School.

Further registrations and tryouts will be held on two successive Sundays, May 18 and 25, also at the Playstead Field, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

All team positions are open and all applicants are urged to register as early as possible in order to optimize the limited tryout time available. The league does not conflict with junior and senior high school baseball, and in fact, is intended to supplement the school baseball program by extending the season approximately 2.5 months.

Interested applicants, born prior to August 1, 1969 and born after July 31, 1961, are eligible to participate, and are urged to register. A registration fee will be required and payable prior to the season start, but refundable to applicants not selected for the 18 member squad. All interested and qualified Andover residents, whether non students, or students from public and private schools and colleges, are welcomed and enthusiastically solicited.

The Merrimack Valley Senior Babe Ruth (16-18) League will start its second season on or about June 1, with a regular 21 game schedule, not including a four-team post season playoff. The season will not extend beyond early August.

After a highly successful and competitive initial season in 1979, the League has since expanded from a four-team League to a seven-team League for 1980. The new seven-team League is comprised of Andover, Boxford, Chelmsford, Lawrence American, Lawrence National, Middleton and Topsfield. Similar to last year's schedule, all weekday games will be played starting at 8 p.m., under the lights at the Lawrence Stadiums, thereby eliminating much of the hassle, conflict and interference created by jobs and travel from jobs, by team members attempting to play in a normal 6 p.m. starting twilight game. No games are scheduled for Fridays or Saturdays, but Sunday afternoon games will be played. Also, a League Tournament Team will again be selected in early July, for district and state competition.

Last year's championship Andover entry included several Andover High and Phillips Academy players, many of whom are still eligible and are urged to register.

The team will again be managed by Al Pelletier and coached by Hal Faigel and Don Rathbun. For further information call Al Pelletier.

Streaking Warriors Wen Two

Andover's JV baseball team added two more victories to its string last week to up its record to 6-1. They began by defeating Methuen by a 2-1 margin and finished the week by defeating Billerica, 5-3.

The Methuen game turned out to be a sizzler as it took only an hour and 20 minutes to complete.

The Warriors got a splendid performance from Tim Bolduc who allowed only two hits while walking four and whiffing nine. The two hits came in the third with one out as the visiting pitcher Gary Townsend beat out a bunt and was followed by Tom Abrahams' infield hit on a poorly played ball.

The visitors scored their only run in the top of the seventh as a pair of walks with a passed ball in between placed men on first and third with none out. Bolduc then induced the next hitter to hit into a Derby-Scarpa to DiPiano twin killing before whiffing the final batter.

Andover scored both runs in the fourth as Brian Moriarty reached on an error, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Glenn Acciardi's single.

Acciardi escaped to third on a wild pickoff throw before scoring on Jeff Parker's squeeze bunt.

Tim Derby continued to shine in the field as he rattled off an unassisted double play in the third to go along with the one in the seventh. He also hit two long shots.

The second win came at the hands of Billerica by a 5-3 score.

The Indians from Billerica scored a single run in the first without benefit of a hit and two more in the seventh aided by a few less than spectacular plays.

The Warriors struck with nine hits, led by Jeff Parker's and Jim Herman's two each.

The win produced a fine effort from John Levesque as the young lefty walked four, struck out three and allowed four hits in four innings. Levesque was rescued by Jim Herman who looked superb until the shoddiness of inning number seven.

Car Springs

If your car is riding low, it may need new springs. However, installing new leaf springs is usually an expensive proposition, points out the ALA Auto and Travel Club, so you may want to look into installing "helper springs."

CRUISEMASTER LIMITED WARRANTY

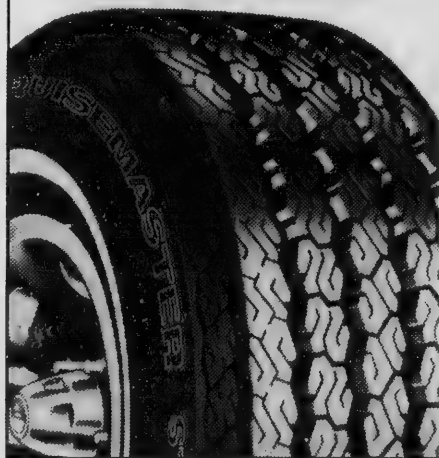

36,000 MILE STEEL BELTED RADIAL
PASSENGER CAR SERVICE

For the first 12,000 miles, any new first-class 36,000 mile Cruisemaster Steel Belted Radial tire properly installed on a private passenger car, and not used in commercial service, will be replaced free of charge if it falls due to defects in workmanship or materials, or road hazard (excluding repairable punctures), or for even tread wear to the depth indicators, not resulting from negligent use. For the next 24,000 miles, Gulf will make an adjustment toward the same type of new tire for even tread wear to the depth indicators. The adjustment charge will be based on the percent of 36,000 miles delivered times the then current "Suggested Retail Price." Local taxes, mounting and balancing charges are not included. This warranty is void without presentation of the warranty card by the original buyer to an authorized Gulf or Cruisemaster retailer. This warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.

AS A FAMILY CAR.

Introducing VW Jetta. The new family sport sedan that drives and performs just about like BMW 320i. And has trunk space to match the Mercedes 280E and Rolls Royce. Even with all its roominess and fuel-injected get up and go, Jetta gives you an EPA estimated 25 mpg, 40 mpg highway estimate.

Compare these estimates to the "estimated mpg" of other cars. Mileage varies with speed, weather and trip length. Actual highway mileage will probably be less.

If you thought you had to settle for ho hum, stop in and test drive the exciting new VW Jetta.

Smith homered while Doherty tripled and Rourke doubled in getting two hits each. Starter Kevin Rourke pitched three strong innings for the win as Earl Abdoo finished up the mound chores.

The only attack the Red Sox could muster was furnished by Mike Melia with their only two hits, including a home run. Defense standouts were Mosa Kaleel and Bill Dutton for the Sox and Eric Neyman for the Tigers.

White Sox 4, Indians 2

The White Sox had one big inning for a come-from-behind victory over the Indians that included good pitching, tight defense and timely hitting. The Indians were ahead 2-0 until the fifth when Greg Najjar unloaded a double with the bases loaded to tie the game. Meanwhile, Paul Oshan after allowing single runs in the first and third innings shut the door on the tribe going the route for the win. He had plenty of help from Eric Frank with a bases-loaded catch in center field, and strong catching by Steve Duncan. Paul Sheedy pitched very well for the Indians supported by a strong defense.

Record Output

The world's record for total output by a nuclear plant is 50 billion kilowatt hours, held by Connecticut Yankee. In 12 years it's produced more electricity than any of the other 194 nuclear units in operation in the world today. Generating the same amount of electricity in an oil-fueled plant would have required burning 85 million barrels of oil. Placed end to end, they would have circled the world twice.

REALISTIC RETIREMENT PLANNING

There are two approaches to retirement planning for the homeowner. One is to sock money away in the bank and have a good-sized nest egg with which to buy a retirement home when the time comes. The other approach is to buy that retirement home now and have it well paid off when retirement arrives.

Economically and emotionally, the best answer is to buy that home now. Not only will you have a good cash investment in it when you retire, but the value of that home should keep increasing with the inflation rate. Better still, invest in a second rental home. Let your renter help pay for your retirement. Interviews with retirees reveal that one of the last things they desire to do upon retirement is withdraw a sizeable amount of cash from savings. The bank account is a must at a time when expenses climb and income remains flat.

Do you think real estate will ever cost less than it does now? The time to start retirement planning is today!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Thinking of Home Improvements?

Before selecting a contractor, consider these important points:

Protect yourself: Is the contractor fully insured should an employee be injured on your property — or accidentally damages your property or a neighbors?

Avoid misunderstandings: When getting several bids on a job, verbal descriptions alone may leave gray areas that can cause bids to vary substantially. Blueprints and/or exact specifications of materials to be used are recommended to assure all contractors are bidding on exactly the same ideas. Will the contractor provide you with a written, detailed contract, stating clearly what is to be done and at what price?

Reliability — References: Is the contractor well known locally? Does he offer a local telephone number to reach him if questions arise? Does he have brochures or photos of his work? Previous customers references really do not tell you much except the names of one or two satisfied customers — of course no one would provide dissatisfied clients as references! Best references are names of professional people such as local realty agencies, materials and lumber suppliers and local newspapers carrying the contractor's ads. These people get feed-back from lots of clients. They know how long he has been in business locally.

Professional affiliations: Hopefully, the contractor you choose belongs to one or more professional business or trade organizations who want members to uphold their high standards.

Gypsy Moth Attack To Begin On May 29

The department of public works will spray roadside trees with a bacterial insecticide from approximately May 20 until June 10 to save town trees from the gypsy moth, with the selectmen's approval.

DPW Director Robert McQuade appeared before the selectmen Monday night to ask for direction from the board, and to hear public opinion of the spraying. The insecticide to be used, known as Bt (Bacillus thuringiensis), is recommended by the state as well as the Audubon Society because it will have fewer adverse effects on the environment than other insecticides, McQuade said.

The insecticide will be used with a hydraulic sprayer, rather than misting, because it is more concentrated and easier to control that way, McQuade added.

McQuade said he believed spraying was necessary — even though the conservation commission is strongly opposed to it — because the town's trees "are under stress already, and if they are attacked by gypsy moths, we could lose all of our shade trees."

Spraying will not eliminate the moths, but only control them, said McQuade.

A large outbreak of the moth can be expected this year, and an even greater one next year, McQuade said, explaining that the moth comes in cycles and will probably die off naturally after next year.

"After next year, there will probably be a lull for a number of years before they come back," he said.

The state does not recommend spraying except where it is required to save valuable trees, the DPW director said, while the Audubon Society is against spraying entirely. Both recommend the use of Bt if spraying is undertaken, said McQuade.

Although all the health effects of Bt are not known, and other insecticides have been found to be more effective against the moth than Bt, Bt will have fewer harmful effects on bees and plants than other insecticides would have, said McQuade.

No private trees will be sprayed, McQuade said. Residents will have to resort to the "pain in the neck" of scraping the moths off their own trees, said Selectman Norma Gammon.

Edmond Melucci of 4 Kensington St. said he favored the spraying because it would stop the gypsy moths from defoliating and eventually killing trees.

"Our roadside shade trees are one of our most valuable possessions," especially in the Shawsheen area, said Melucci, "I would like to see the town preserve the trees in that area."

Cab Fares Increase May 15

Andover Yellow Cab, will increase its fares effective May 15, with the approval of the selectmen. With the change, meters will be added to the company's two cabs.

Selectmen approved the fare increases after owner Joseph Whitmore of Somerville came to an agreement on the increases with Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark.

The new fares will be $1.20 for each drop within the first half-mile, and 20 cents per mile thereafter; $2 for the first mile and $1.60 per mile thereafter; and an hourly waiting fee of $10 per hour.

All senior citizens will be given a 10 percent discount for rides over a $2 minimum.

The selectmen Monday night also renewed Whitmore's license for the taxi company, located at 11 Lupine Road.
